The European Federation "One of Us" presented last February in Paris the Cultural Platform One of Us, which seeks to involve at an European level intellectuals, philosophers, historians, scientists, bioethicists, lawyers ... as well as professional multipliers.

Today, the principles that make up the foundations and roots of Europe are increasingly denied and hidden in politics, social life and the media, in favor of globalization and moral relativism. In the current situation, the objective of this union of European thinkers is to defend, at the intellectual level and at the pre-political level, Christian values, beliefs and principles at European level.

The main objectives of the Seminar that will take place in Santiago de Compostela are, on the one hand, to bring together the thinkers who integrate this platform in Europe, and on the other hand, to carry out an analysis of the European situation in the field of values to establish a Permanent observatory as well as an action plan of the Platform.
